IWS's new lean, mean, green machine

IWS-mobile™ takes IWS – the UK's premier waste management software – out on the road. It uses the latest GPRS satellite navigation technology for on-line mapping, calculating width, height and weight limits to create truck and HGV-friendly routes. No more wasted time and fuel as your operatives search for the right road, while route history means you can keep a check on exactly where each vehicle is 24/7.

Customer details are collected electronically and updated automatically. Where necessary they can also be amended via IWS-mobile's™ interactive touch/stylus sensitive display. Because you always know what your operatives are doing, you can make sure they carry out every task efficiently – on every trip – saving paper, and reducing queries and administration costs.

This exciting new piece of kit has a mobile phone, keeping drivers in close contact with you, while a camera is there to make a pictorial record of useful details. Although extremely sophisticated, with lots of features, these pdas are tough little customers, made to take plenty of use every day.

Install IWS-mobile™ and reap the rewards – happy customers, efficient drivers, better cost control, and a greener world.

Using GPRS technology, IWS-mobile™ enables the operator to interact directly with IWS screens via a touch/stylus sensitive display – retrieving routing, order and customer details; adding additional job details and data; and electronically collecting customer signatures. All the potential problems with paper trails are a thing of the past!

Not only does IWS-mobile™ offer you improved IWS efficiency, it can also extend and improve your overall operational efficiency with many additional benefits including:

- > GPS Satellite positioning
- > Mobile telephone communication
- > Satellite Navigation
- > Vehicle tracking
- > Geofencing
- > Driver logon, safety checklist & vehicle acceptance routines
- > Barcode reader

By using the highly adaptable IWS waste management modular software system, your IWS-mobiles™ can be configured to make sure your operatives carry out every task – every trip.

IWS-mobile™ is available for purchase or lease with full terminal software and support licensing and RTB warranty extendable up to three years.

This tough, rugged pda puts the power of IWS Waste Management software on the road – in the hands of your drivers, but with you firmly in the driving seat.
